ROYAL BEE

Description

Syrup made with honey, propolis extract and flavored with eucalyptus, pennyroyal and copaiba.

Honey is a natural food produced by bees from the nectar from flowers. Because of this, there are some types of honey, which may vary according to flowering, which alter its color, flavor and aroma.

Propolis is a substance produced by bees through collection of resins from the flora and altered by the action of the enzymes of its Spittle. With a sticky appearance, its color, flavor and aroma vary from according to the botanical origin of the resin that was extracted by bees. Inside the beehives, propolis is used as a sealing and safety mechanism, as it protects the hive from virus, fungus and bacteria, water proofing.

The flavors of pennyroyal, eucalyptus and copaiba leave the consumption of product even more practical and tasty.
